

HAVE YOU HEARD ABOUT...

■ Three Caribbean resorts are offering

"procreation vacation" packages. Rates start at $1,683 for three nights. Expect treats like unlimited bowls of pumpkin soup, beloved by islanders to boost fertility. See westin.com/stjohn; westin.com/ourlucaya; and martineaubayresort.com.

■ If you've lost baby's birth certificate, need your own, or want to get a passport, you can now pay someone else to do most of the hassle at officialtraveldocuments.com.

■ Get the best segments of The American Baby Show through On Demand from Comcast Digital Cable. Get sound advice on the topics most important to you: baby's health, early learning, and more.

Bundled in the Bjorn

A heavy coat makes it harder to get baby in the Bjorn—or any front carrier—but your own coat likely doesn't fit around him. A warm solution: the fleece Baby Bjorn Cover for Baby Carrier ($40; babyswede.com).

THESE FRIENDLY CRITTERS GET BABY'S ATTENTION.

LOOKING UP

We're entranced by Tiny Love's Symphony Light & Motion Mobile, and baby will be, too! The characters swoop down and then up from baby, and there are soft lights and swirling colors in the center. It plays music or nature sounds ($50; tinylove.com).

For group exercise—with your baby!—check out strollerstrides.com. There are now groups that meet and stroll in malls, so you can get fit even during bad weather.

Mom Bangles

You gave birth—congratulate yourself (or have baby's daddy do it) with a pink or blue leather bracelet. We love the tiny silver blinky charm ($99; rockstobuybaby.com).

SMARTER PUMP

If you're serious about long-term pumping—you're working and want to express breast milk for months to come—you need a double-electric pump. Avent's innovative new model is the IQ Duo ($400; aventamerica.com). It operates like cruise-control on a car: You use the hand pump to find a speed and suction you like, then click a button and the machine keeps going. The custom controls may give you a faster letdown and help you produce milk.
